Letter of recommendation

To whom it may concern,

This letter is my personal recommendation for Aldorith Chouna Nguefa. I was Aldorith's manager for 2 years at Société Générale as apprentice.

Besides being a joy to work with him, Mr Chouna Nguefa is a person who is very autonomous, devoted and meticulous in his projects, which were valuable for the Bank. He is a hardworking and innovative person and during our collaboration he knew how to manage an ambitious project with the integration of new AI technologies within our audit processes. He knew how to self-learn about complex topics around strategic audit notes. His implication in every project I worked with him, as well as her eagerness in creating a pleasant work environment prove he is a valuable asset for your organization and for the projects you would undertake with him. He also took part of strategic meetings with the management of Data Scientist department and his projects were always inspiring the whole team.

I highly recommend Aldorith. He is a quick learner, innovative, tech enthusiast, rigorous and hardworking individual. I have no doubt of his future successes in the future career he will embrace.

I can say that he is a gifted junior data scientist and I can assure you that collaborate with him will be a great opportunity.

Sincerely,

Pierre-Michel BECQUET
